BOOK SYNOPSIS

High Quality Content by WIKIPEDIA articles! In American football and Canadian football, a sack occurs when the quarterback is tackled behind the line of scrimmage before he can throw a forward pass, or when the quarterback is tackled behind the line of scrimmage in the "pocket" and the intent of what he was going to do is unclear. This often occurs if the opposing teams defensive line, linebackers or defensive backs are able to quickly get past blocking players of the offensive team (the quarterbacks protection), or if the quarterback is unable to find a back to hand the ball off to or an available eligible receiver (including wide receivers, running backs and tight ends) to catch the ball, allowing the defense a longer opportunity to tackle the quarterback.
